TEN-YEAR-OLD BOY IS GAGGED AND ROBBED BY OTHER BOYS

Covered with dirt and leaves of trees and bewailing the loss of $1.95 which he said had been taken from him in bandit style by other boys, a small boy of about ten years appeared in the juvenile court rooms yesterday afternoon and told how he had been lured to a lonely spot on a vacant lot on the bench, bound, gagged and robbed.

"This is another proof of our contention that the moving pictures are instilling into small boys false ideals and putting into their minds the notion that 'bad men' are heroic," said Judge Sullivan this morning. The child who claimed that he had been robbed said the names of the boys who had lured him to the spot, only several blocks from the county court house and jail and the court rooms of the juvenile tribunal, and there enacted a holdup scene.

Chinese Reporter Sees American Game; Was Photographed

Lee Woo, the great Hong Kong baseball reporter, was snapped by a photographer today as he sat in the grandstand watching a game of baseball through a telescope. Lee Woo is the second "Chinese Sam Crane" who introduced our great national game in China with notable success. He has been engaged to "cover" the western big league games for an American newspaper. Nothing escapes Lee's three eyes, as he watches the players, no matter how far in the outfield.

In his youth, Lee Woo was the champion shuttlecock player of China. In later years, the "baseball bug" bit him, and Lee has been a "crank" ever since.

A picture of Lee Woo was immediately telegraphed to Ogden, and may be seen at the Lelshman telegraph picture bulletin in front of Last and Thomas' stores.—Advertisement.

Federal Authorities Enter Into Fight Against Liquor

Otto Salo and Andrew Wilson, two Finns, arrested yesterday morning at the Union depot by David Gershon, special agent of the department of justice, upon the charge of having liquor in their possession, were arraigned before W. H. Reeder, Jr., U. S. Commissioner, this afternoon.

The commissioner will determine whether the defendants shall be held over for hearing before the federal grand jury. Their bail will also be set pending such hearing.

This is one of the first cases the government has taken up in Ogden over the violation of the provisions of the Reed amendment to the Webb-Kenyon act.

NORTH OGDEN HAS AN EVENING IN HONOR OF THREE MEN

Of all the social entertainments of North Ogden for the year this far nothing has eclipsed the one of a triple treat held in the ward chapel and amusement hall Friday evening in recognition of the public labors in the ward of David E. Randall, first counselor to Bishop Frederick Barker, who leaves his home May 12th or a second mission to Great Britain; George E. Brown, who has been released as second counselor to Bishop Barker and called into the State High council; and Benjamin F. Blaylock, who was released March 30th from the position as ward clerk after serving in that capacity nearly twenty-two years.

The ward building was taxed to its capacity to accommodate all those that gathered for the occasion. Bishop's Counselor Lorenzo Ward was in charge of the services, consisting of music by the band, selections by the ward choir, supported by solos and duets and talks by a number of the brethren were given, including a presentation speech of appropriate and well chosen words by John W. Gibson in presenting each of the special guests of the evening with tokens of appreciation by the ward for their many years of active service for their betterment.

At the close of the program in the auditorium of the ward chapel, the band struck up a lively march to which the vast audience moved up to the amusement hall, where lunch was served, followed by games and other amusements and a general good time in social converse 'till a very late hour.

DAVID E. RANDALL. Son of Alfred Randall and Hannah Severn Randall. Born January 1, 1859, at Ogden, Weber county, Utah. Baptized July 22, 1877, by Franklin G. Clifford and confirmed July 25, 1877. Ordained an elder December 2, 1888, by John M. Marshall. Ordained a Seventy Jan. 11, 1891, by President William Barker. Married November 21, 1889, to Eliza A. Chadwick in the Logan Temple. Departed May 2, 1896, to a mission in England and returned May 2, 1898. Was a member of the presidency of the 38th quorum of Seventy from Dec. 19, 1901, to March 1, 1912. He served as superintendent of the North Ogden Sunday school from Jan. 17, 1906, to Sept. 29, 1917. Dec. 29, 1912, he was ordained a high priest and set apart as first counselor to Frederick Barker in the Bishopric of the North Ogden ward.

When the defendants refused to enter a plea or to make any statement, the commissioner then ordered that they be held to the federal jury.

May the First is only a few days off. Thousands of people have learned the saving of laying in their month's supply of foods the "cash and carry" way. Credit stores which claim you can afford to pay extra for all your foods, for the privilege of having them charged are not interested in your welfare. Only selfish motives prompt such statements. No one knows this better than the person who has been forced, at some time to run grocery bills. Even if the additional charge, because of delivery and credit, is no more than 10 per cent, no person inclined to save can afford to pay it. Imagine yourself giving the credit grocer 10c to 20c extra on each dollar you pay him at the end of the month.

WE PAY THE DRAYAGE

on all orders of $5.00 any distance up to five blocks. $10.00 orders or more as far out as ten blocks (sack of sugar not included in the above amount). Visit our nearest store and lay in your groceries for May.

The headline of the bill is the Colonial Five, four clever and charming girls and one man, and the men, let it be said, is not the least entertaining on the bill. The four girls in this act do some singing that brings back memories of the days gone by when many of the gray temples said their best. The old, sweet melodies are sung by these girls as mother used to sing them in her young days, and as they sing, many a furtive tear falls.
